

The work is inspired by the life of a homeless couple living day to day on the bank of a place they call home. Due to the passage of time will slowly losing their identity, but not their feelings, their memories of the past, enthusiasm for life and the complicity between them.

Bottoming is a walk in the reality of everyday life that surrounds us all today and always. It is an awakening of emotions will not leave anyone indifferent. It is a tribute to second chances, unconditional love and above all friendship.