

Celso, a businessman with a past and a present turbulent, hire Ismael, an intellectual who is going through a difficult economic time, to work like a part-time reader of her daughter Lorraine, who has gone blind after an accident. Lorena sensed that behind his "reader" is hiding something more